Fusion Tattoo Ink is the result of a collaboration between Adam Everett and Next Generation Tattoo machines. Adam Everett has been producing pigments since 1995, so it comes as no surprise that his tattoo inks are thick with a high-pigment load and contain no fillers. Fusion Tattoo Ink is an organic pigment that is completely vegan-friendly.

COLOR-WHEEL

The Abbott Color Wheel displays every colour in Eternal's range of tattoo inks. The inks are precisely arranged by hue and value in order to help you select the best colour scheme for the project you're working on.

The kit also contains a 30cm diameter removable wall decal of the Abbott Color Wheel, which will stick to most smooth surfaces. You can hang it next to your work station to help you with your colour selection.

A colour theory primer is printed on the 2 interior faces of the jacket. This primer will help you become familiar with colour theory on which the colour wheel is based.

Bullets Tattoo Ink is a German quality product of the H-A-N GmbH based in Esslingen. Experienced and creative tattoo artists as well as engineers and chemical-technical assistants are involved in the production of the ink. It is characterized by high luminosity, brilliance and resistance to light. Therefore, it is perfectly suited for cover-ups. It can be diluted with water in order to easily achieve the desired processing viscosity.

The colours for Atomic Tattoo Ink are created using innovative and avant-garde formulas, perhaps the most advanced in the world of Professional Tattooing. The innovative formula makes this tint shiny, fluid and easy to apply. The colour spreads efficiently under the skin because of its carefully selected and tested quality ingredients. It's easy to mix with other inks to achieve infinite gradations.

All the inks respect the strict European legislations ResAP(2008)1 with regards to the release of aromatic amines, PAH and content of heavy metals. All inks are sterilized to guarantee absolute microbiological safety.

² Difference in lightness describes the value or the difference between two colors in the color space under defined conditions. We have measured the difference in lightness of every Carbon Black Tattoo Ink in relation to the darkest color: Filler 12.

STEP ONE: BLENDING

Step One: Blending contains less pigment than Panthera Light Summy Shader, and can be used to blend in areas of your tattoo.

It can be used in portraits on areas such as the forehead or light parts on the nose, etc. It could help you create bumps and wrinkles in very light areas, without being too dark that it would look dirty. It's even good for achieving a look of skin pores, as with this dilution it will leave no black dots as pores.

Step One: Blending

STEP TWO: FINISH

Step Two: Finish contains even less pigment and is used for the final stage of your piece. Using Finish enables you to completely saturate even the lightest areas of the tattoo you may have previously left untouched. And when the tattoo heals, the area you saturated with Finish will remain in the skin.

POWER TRIANGLE SYSTEM

Bez invented the remarkable "Power Triangle" system. Each machine comes with a variety of different Power Triangles of which each different colour is a different density of rubber. This allows the artist to configure their EGO exactly how they want it, in terms of give and throw.

The Power Triangle system efficiently replicates the front and back spring system used in traditional coil machines.

Not content with just creating some of the world's finest coil tattoo machines, FK Irons owner Gaston Siciliano entered the 'Rotary Age' with Spektra, dedicated to the engineering of rotary tattoo machines.

Spektra, a division of FK Irons and backed by the company's famed engineering team, first entered the world of tattooing back in 2012. Just like with FK Irons, all rotary tattoo machines from Spektra are made in the USA.

STELLAR

NEEDLE CARTRIDGES

STELLAR NEEDLE CARTRIDGES

The Killer Ink Stellar Needle Cartridges are high quality cartridges containing precision soldered needles. The round liners and round shaders are fitted with a special stabiliser to stop the needle wobbling, making them perfect for stable, accurate work.

The cartridges are fitted with a secure membrane, which ensures that no ink or blood can leak through in to the grip. The Stellar Needles are enclosed in a single capsule, made from a super strong polycarbonate material, allowing the needle to effortlessly glide without causing wear and tear. The cartridges are transparent, offering complete visibility of the needle while tattooing.

STIGMA-ROTARY® ADVANCED NEEDLE CARTRIDGES

Stigma-Rotary® Advanced Needle Cartridges are designed with safety in mind. They feature an external sealing cap, to prevent any leak through to the grip and machine. When connected with a Stigma grip, this forms a dual seal, so the cartridge seals completely with the grip at the connecting spot. The umbrella trap design prevents ink / blood from splattering over the cartridge sides.

The external sealing cap also provides another key benefit. Due to the thickness and elasticity of the rubber material it is made from, the external sealing cap also acts as a dampening system, providing a natural 10% give. This is optimal not only for shading, but also for lining. With just a little give, shading becomes smoother and lines become crisper than they would have without any give, enhancing your tattooing experience. All these benefits are making these cartridges safer than ever to use, so you can concentrate clearly on tattooing!

CHEYENNE®

PROFESSIONAL TATTOO EQUIPMENT

CHEYENNE HAWK CARTRIDGES

Cheyenne Hawk needle cartridges are quickly interchangeable and have their own integrated membrane that keeps ink and blood contained in the cartridge and away from the grip. The needles from the cartridge will protrude out of the end of the tip when the spring loaded needle bar plunger is pressed in and the needles will simply protrude back in to its normal starting position when pressure is released, making it safe and easy to dispose of.

Cheyenne Hawk needle cartridges are hand assembled in Germany and go through various quality check stages before they finally make it through to packaging and sterilisation.

Cheyenne Hawk needle cartridges enable you to change between needle configurations in seconds, making your life a lot easier and also saving you time and therefore money.

PROTECTIVE TATTOO FILM

DERMALIZE PRO - PROTECTIVE TATTOO FILM

Dermalize is the all-in-one tattoo aftercare solution for the initial healing stage of a tattoo: a film that acts as a 'second skin' to protect tattoo wounds from germs and bacteria and at the same time, is permeable allowing the skin to 'breathe'. The film assists the skin to heal naturally from the inside out, by locking in the body's natural fluids and enzymes, which guarantees beautifully healed tattoos.
